The alert will include a copy of the report results in an Excel, HTML or CSV file. If it's a hoax, other people may have reported it. By default, LANSWEEPER only scans error events, to stop the constant flow of event logs from Bloating Your database. These These Exit immediately, unlike report alerts, running at a schedule. The frequency with which you receive completely depends on you and may be anywhere between every minute and each month. Find the event logs that import the event log alerts instantly warn you each time an event is scanned Windows predefined. Each time Lansweeper scans an event that meets these criteria, an email is sent to a mail group of your choice. If you receive a request for this type, and you are not sure if it is legitimate, contact the sender by telephone to see if the company sent electronic mail. Companies, banks, websites and other good reputation entities will not ask you to send personal information online. Phishing emails try to deceive people to disclose personal details, user names, passwords and other confidential information. To report emails suspicious to Microsoft when using Outlook.com: Select the Phishing email you want to report. When you see one of these threats, do not click on any email. You can configure your email alerts to distribute the information to the appropriate people as you arrive, or send them at a schedule. This article explains how to report phishing email in Outlook.com. Electronic mail will move to your junk mail folder. Instead, you must inform about it for the Microsoft team to take measures to protect you and other users. Select the events that interest you from the list and make sure that Lansweeper scans these types of events.
